MEDIA COVERAGE GUIDELINES

Due to COVID-19, U.S. Figure Skating will communicate specific media coverage guidelines prior to each event to accommodate the most up-to-date health and safety guidelines. The safety of the athletes will be the top priority in event logistics.

1. ELIGIBILITY

U.S. Figure Skating will issue media credentials to members of the working press. By definition, a member of the working press shall be a paid employee or representative of a known and established media organization.

Journalists who receive credentials must be on assignment for a reputable media organization. Any freelance photographer or reporter must be able to submit an assignment letter from a news outlet if requested.

On a case-by-case basis, U.S. Figure Skating will consider applications for media credentials from independent online media representatives. Please see section 7 for a list of guidelines. Credentials will be granted to these individuals if space allows and after all established media organizations have been accommodated.

All journalists who wish to attend U.S. Figure Skating events must submit a media credential application. Journalists, and their editors, who apply for credentials acknowledge they have read and agree to these media guidelines and U.S. Figure Skating's Professional Journalism Policy. Freelance journalists must be on assignment at the specific event and must submit a media credential application with contact information for their assigning editor. Organizations may request more than one media credential. U.S. Figure Skating does not guarantee that any credentials will be awarded to any organization.

This policy applies to U.S. qualifying events and international events in which U.S. Figure Skating oversees credentialing decisions.

2. APPLICATION DEADLINE

Media credential applications must be received by the established deadlines. U.S. Figure Skating will not guarantee that journalists who submit their applications after the deadline will be accommodated. Submitting an application in no way guarantees your agency will receive a credential. Space may be limited, and only a specific number of media credentials will be issued.

3. CREDENTIAL ACCEPTANCE

U.S. Figure Skating encourages all media to attend U.S. Figure Skating events. However, if there is a limitation on the number of credentials issued for a specific event, U.S. Figure Skating will consider the following criteria, in order of significance, when issuing approval:

1. Media organizations with a large national audience
2. Local media in the host city

3. Media outlets that attend U.S. Figure Skating events on a regular basis

4. Applications received by the deadline

5. Figure skating specialty media

6. Independent online representatives

An acceptance or rejection email will be sent to the journalist and editor listed on the application. This email will be sent no later than 10 days after the application deadline. Please contact Michael Terry, director of communications, if you have a question about the status of your application.

4. CREDENTIAL USAGE

Credentials must be worn and visible at all times during the event. Each credential is issued specifically for the journalist who was accepted through the credential process. Any media outlet that wishes to change the name(s) of its credentialed journalist(s) may apply via email to U.S. Figure Skating prior to the event. Credentials may not be given or loaned to another person for any reason.

Credentialed journalists will receive admission to the event, access to media work areas and access to areas where media accreditation is provided inside the event venue. Misuse of a U.S. Figure Skating media credential will result in the immediate loss of the credential, removal from the media areas and the possible loss of credential privileges for future events for the journalist and the assigning media agency.

5. INTERVIEW POLICY

Credentialed media will adhere to a specific interview policy outlined at each event. U.S. Figure Skating will create opportunities for the media to interview athletes, coaches and others in a timely fashion. Any interview requests not included in the interview policy will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

MEDIA COVERAGE GUIDELINES

6. PHOTOGRAPHERS

Photographers must be on assignment from a known and established media organization and use professional camera equipment. U.S. Figure Skating will post photographer location assignments and restrictions specific to the event and venue. Photographers who do not shoot from their assigned locations will have their credentials revoked.

All photographs taken at the event are to be used solely for editorial purposes by the publication and website for which an individual is credentialed, unless he/she is otherwise granted express written consent by both U.S. Figure Skating and the outlet for which he/she is credentialed. Without such consent, it is prohibited for any photograph taken in association with the event to be sold for use in any manner. Photographs taken at events are not to be used by any other media outlet, organization or individual unless permission is granted by both U.S. Figure Skating and the assigning media outlet. Photography is for editorial use only and cannot be published otherwise.

Failure to comply with the previously stated regulations will result in the immediate loss of credential privileges for all future U.S. Figure Skating events. Additionally, the media outlet listed will lose the ability to credential a photographer at future U.S. Figure Skating events.

7. INDEPENDENT ONLINE REPRESENTATIVES

U.S. Figure Skating will consider applications for media credentials from independent online representatives who have a history of professional journalism experience, an established body of work covering international figure skating and/or professional/Olympic/NCAA sports, demonstrate professional standards and transparency, and regularly produce original content (as determined by U.S. Figure Skating) on an independent website domain. Media credentials will not be issued to independent online media representatives whose websites aggregate content as their main source of information. Credential applications will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

The issuance of a media credential for an independent online media representative will be considered and factored based on the following:

1. History of professional journalism experience

2. Demonstrates professional standards and transparency, as determined solely by U.S. Figure Skating
3. Established body of work covering international figure skating and/or professional/Olympic/NCAA sports, as proven by the amount of regularly produced original content containing a byline
4. Quantifiable weekly and monthly number of unique visitor traffic data based on a recognized objective measurement company
5. Duration of online entity covering international figure skating and/or professional/Olympic/NCAA sports (suggested period of at least three years)
6. Commercial nature of the website, including the representative's website advertisers

In all cases, U.S. Figure Skating may in its sole discretion grant or deny media credentials and may utilize other considerations not listed above.

8. BOOKS AND MANUSCRIPTS

Credentials will not be issued for the sole purpose of writing or gathering material for books or manuscripts. However, this parameter may be waived if

U.S. Figure Skating receives a written letter from the publisher explaining the need for the credential. If such letter is received and authorized the author/researcher may be considered if space is available.

In accordance with media rights granted to U.S. Figure Skating events, these guidelines and restrictions must be adhered to by all digital media entities upon receiving a credential:

9. TELEVISION COVERAGE

U.S. Figure Skating has granted NBC Sports unique broadcast rights associated with U.S. Figure Skating events. Television stations wishing to cover U.S. Figure Skating events are restricted from recording any international competition or championship-level competition at the U.S. Championships, but may participate in the event by adhering to the U.S. Figure Skating television guidelines below.

MEDIA COVERAGE GUIDELINES

VENUE ACCESS: COMPETITION - No camera crews other than those of NBC Sports, U.S. Figure Skating or approved affiliates will be allowed in the bowl of the arena during competition. Live or taped television coverage of the competition will not be permitted. However, television stations may be in the venue at the time of competition to tape mixed zone interviews, press conferences or other interviews, provided they do so in a specified media area and do not in any manner interfere with NBC, U.S. Figure Skating or approved affiliates' rights and personnel.

VENUE ACCESS: NON-COMPETITION - Camera crews may gain access to the venue to shoot practice sessions and post-competition interviews in designated media areas. Television crews may conduct the aforementioned activities in a designated area, provided that such recording and interviews do not in any manner interfere with rights and personnel. Athlete interviews and press conferences will be held when NBC, U.S. Figure Skating and the approved affiliates have concluded their post-competition interview sessions.

FOOTAGE USAGE - NBC digital footage (live or delayed) may be dubbed off the official television broadcasts under the following circumstances:

- This footage cannot be used until AFTER the entire NBC telecast has completed, but it MUST occur within 24 hours of the telecast's completion.
- Any use of this footage beyond the 24-hour period must be cleared by NBC and U.S. Figure Skating prior to use.
- The footage must be aired within a regularly scheduled newscast and not as part of a special sports program/show. Any use of the footage beyond the news-use period (24 hours) will require the written consent of NBC and U.S. Figure Skating.
- Any and all uses of footage must be accompanied by the appropriate video copyright credit.
- Any and all segments must not exceed 90 seconds in length in any one newscast and only portions of a single performance – never a full performance – may be used.

Additionally, 'clean' digital footage (provided by U.S. Figure Skating) may be requested through U.S. Figure Skating's Director, Communications, Michael Terry. If approved, outlets should use this footage under the following terms (unless otherwise specified):

- Outlet must credit U.S. Figure Skating appropriately
- Outlet must use no more than 90 seconds of competition footage in a single package
- Outlet must use footage within 48 hours of event, unless specific permission is granted

If you have questions about the above circumstances, please contact Michael Terry.

BROADCAST OPPORTUNITIES - There are many opportunities for television stations to cover U.S. Figure Skating events:

Practices: Media outlets may video practices in both primary and secondary venues at specified times and locations (with prior approval). In-bowl video should not be recorded by non-rights holders in the primary venue of a discipline which competes on the same day (i.e. event warm-up).

Secondary Venue and/or Lower Competition: Media outlets may broadcast recorded or live footage of practice at the secondary venue (if applicable) or recorded footage of non-championship level competition (i.e. juvenile-junior level) with permission. Footage must not exceed 90 seconds per broadcast. Live or recorded broadcasts must not interfere with the competition (i.e. lighting, noise).

Press Conferences and Post-Competition

Interviews: Credentialed television journalists may set up their equipment in designated areas in preparation for post-event media activities, including press conferences, mixed zone reporting, etc.

Live Remotes – Primary Venue: Media outlets may set up live remotes from the primary competition site as long as no competition is shown in the background and the camera position and lighting do not interfere with event operations or NBC's telecast. Media outlets must make advance arrangements with a member of the U.S. Figure Skating communications staff. Special credentials may be issued and will specify restricted use of material. Parking for satellite trucks is not guaranteed and must be arranged in advance.

Live Remotes – Secondary Venue: Media outlets may set up live remotes from the secondary site (if applicable) if granted permission in advance. Parking for satellite trucks is not guaranteed and must be arranged in advance. Live remotes must not interfere with the competition or other event operations (i.e. lighting, noise).

These guidelines are subject to change without notice. In all cases, U.S. Figure Skating may, in its sole discretion, grant or deny media credentials and may utilize other considerations not listed above. Please address any questions or concerns with Michael Terry at 719.228.3437 or mterry@usfigureskating.org.

In April 2018, U.S. Figure Skating announced two major media rights agreements that guarantee unprecedented coverage of figure skating in the United States through the 2026 season. The first was an eight-year extension of its broadcast rights agreement with NBC and the second was Ice Network, LLC's acquisition of all U.S. media rights for International Skating Union (ISU) events through the 2025-26 season.

Through 2026, NBC Sports will present an unprecedented 80+ hours of coverage, including 30+ hours of figure skating coverage on NBC, with an additional 50+ hours airing on NBCSN. U.S. Figure Skating launched the "Figure Skating Pass" on NBC Sports Gold, NBC Sports Digital's direct-to-consumer live streaming product, beginning in the 2018-19 season. Beginning with the 2020-21 season, figure skating moved to Peacock Premium, NBC Universal's new streaming property, continuing fans' access to live and on-demand domestic and international figure skating competition.

The ISU agreement with Ice Network, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of U.S. Figure Skating covers multiple distribution platforms and guarantees live coverage of ISU events, including the World Figure Skating Championships, the Four Continents Championships and the Grand Prix of Figure Skating Series on NBC Sports Gold, as well as television coverage on NBC, NBC Sports Network and the Olympic Channel: Home of Team USA.

DISCIPLINES

DISCIPLINES

There are five disciplines in competitive figure skating:

Ladies

Men's

Pairs

Ice dance

Synchronized

This media guide represents the first four disciplines, all of which compete at the Olympic Winter Games. A separate synchronized skating media guide is available.

SKILL LEVELS

Within ladies, men's, pairs and ice dance, there are five competitive skill levels that are based on proficiency tests. Each level draws on similar techniques but adheres to increasingly more difficult skills as well as different rules and guidelines.

SENIOR PROGRAMS

This guide focuses on the senior level, which is competed at the World Figure Skating Championships and Olympic Winter Games.

There are no age requirements to compete as a senior in the United States. To compete as a senior internationally, skaters must be age 15 by July 1 preceding the events.

The five skill levels are:

Senior	(Most Advanced)
Junior
Novice
Intermediate
Juvenile	(Beginning)

PROGRAM LENGTH

LADIES	MEN'S	PAIRS	ICE DANCE
Short Program 2:40 +/- 0:10	Short Program 2:40 +/- 0:10	Short Program 2:40 +/- 0:10	Rhythm Dance 2:50 +/- 0:10
Free Skate 4:00 +/- 0:10	Free Skate 4:00 +/- 0:10	Free Skate 4:00 +/- 0:10	Free Dance 4:00 +/- 0:10

LADIES AND MEN'S

Form, style, technique, concentration and the ability to perform under pressure are the key requirements in ladies and men's singles. The rules are similar for both disciplines. Each competition is comprised of two parts: the short program and the free skate.

Athletes must pass two tests: senior moves in the field and senior free skate.

SHORT PROGRAM (SENIOR)

The short program consists of seven required moves or elements with connecting steps: three jumps, three spins and one step sequence. The moves may be done in any order.

FREE SKATE (SENIOR)

The well-balanced free skate sets a maximum number of a particular element; it does not set a minimum. If a skater performs more than the number of well-balanced program elements permitted, there are no deductions, but the skater will not receive credit for these additional elements. The skater should pay close attention to interesting transitions, connecting steps and movements between elements.

PAIRS

Pairs skating is performed in unison by partners, with the addition of difficult overhead lifts, throw jumps and spins. The key to pairs skating is exact timing in unison. Whether the partners are together or apart, their movements should be synchronized with matching body lines, gestures and footwork.

Senior pairs skaters need to pass two tests: senior moves in the field and the senior pairs test.

SHORT PROGRAM (SENIOR) The pairs short program consists of seven required elements, which include an overhead lift, side-by-side solo jumps done in unison, a throw jump, a twist lift, a spin, a step sequence and a death spiral.

FREE SKATE (SENIOR) The free skate consists of technical and artistic moves choreographed to best display the skaters' individual strengths, skills and ability to perform as a team. Shadow skating (in which partners perform identical maneuvers some distance apart) and mirror skating (in which the pair's moves are in opposite directions and mirror each other) are aspects of pairs skating.

ICE DANCE

Unlike pairs skating, which features overhead lifts and jumps, ice dance is based on the different aspects of dance, including rhythm, interpretation of the music and precise steps. No overhead lifts or jumps of more than one revolution are allowed.

An ice dance competition is made up of two parts: the rhythm dance and the free dance. Senior ice dancers must pass three tests: senior moves in the field, the gold pattern dance and the senior free dance.

RHYTHM DANCE (SENIOR) The rhythm dance consists of required elements including dance lifts, spins, twizzles, step sequences and sequences or sections of pattern dances. Teams choose their music and choreography, but it must conform to the specified rhythms and requirements.

PATTERN DANCE (SENIOR) Pattern dances consist of specific steps and holds skated in set patterns. In senior events, a pattern dance may be one of the required elements within the rhythm dance. For 2020-21, the specified pattern dance within the rhythm dance is the Finnstep.

FREE DANCE (SENIOR) Skaters display their full range of technical skills, interpretation and inventiveness to music and choreography of their choice. Teams use changes of position, intricate and varied dance holds, dance lifts, spins and difficult footwork to present their best ice dance skills.

OVERVIEW

ISU USAGE OF THE IJS

At the 50th ISU Congress in Scheveningen, The Netherlands, held in June 2004, the international judging system (IJS) received the two-thirds vote needed to pass, marking the end of the 6.0 system's usage at ISU events.

The system was first tested behind the scenes at various events during the 2002–03 season (the first event to officially use it was the 2003 Nebelhorn Trophy). Adjustments and clarifications have been made throughout the years based on feedback from athletes, coaches and officials.

INTERNATIONAL JUDGING SYSTEM PROGRESS

2002–03	Test events
2003–04	Grand Prix (GP) events
2004–05	All ISU championship events, GP and Junior Grand Prix (JGP)

2005–06	All ISU events

*ISU member nations are free to use the system of their choice at national events.

In May 2005, the U.S. Figure Skating Governing Council voted to approve the IJS for use in U.S. Figure Skating qualifying competitions.

The 6.0 judging system has been retained, as necessary, for competitions. At nonqualifying competitions, either the international judging system or the 6.0 judging system may be used at the discretion of the local organizing committee, with a few restrictions.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ISU AND U.S. FIGURE SKATING USAGE OF THE IJS

In all U.S. Figure Skating, ISU and international competitions, the judges' names appear next to their scores. Should a numerical anomaly become apparent at an ISU senior event, it is addressed by the ISU's Officials Assessment Commission (OAC). Once an assessment is reached, the name of the official is announced by an independent third party.

Should a judge's score be contested at a U.S. Figure Skating event, the chief referee submits a report to a committee for examination and assessment.

OVERVIEW OF THE IJS

The international judging system is based on cumulative points. Points are awarded for the technical evaluation of the elements combined with points awarded for five program components:

- skating skills
- transitions
- performance
- composition
- interpretation of the music/timing (for ice dance)

In the IJS, if a skater performs more than the defined "well-balanced program" elements, there are no deductions, but the skater will not receive credit for these additional elements (except in ice dance, where there is a 1.0 point deduction for each additional element). If a skater performs fewer elements than required, they receive fewer points, but no reduction in points. Essentially, the IJS rewards skaters for strong performances rather than punishing them for poor performances.

Technical panel officials work as a team to determine the type and difficulty of elements performed by each skater. The judges then independently evaluate the qualities of the elements and the performance as a whole.

Each skater is judged independently from the other competitors, so starting order does not impact a skater's score. Also, placement after the short program is not as important as the point differential between the skaters, so placing low in one segment is not necessarily a bar to winning an event.

JUDGES & OFFICIALS

Skaters are evaluated by a judging panel and a technical panel. The judging panel consists of judges and the referee. The technical panel consists of the technical controller, technical specialist, assistant technical specialist, data operator and video replay operator.

JUDGES

The judges are responsible for evaluating the quality of the technical elements and program components.

REFEREE

The referee is in charge of the event. The referee manages the panel of judges and fulfills certain responsibilities, including setting the schedule, conducting draws, determining certain deductions and deciding protests or disputes.

TECHNICAL CONTROLLER

The technical controller supervises, confirms and authorizes all decisions executed by the technical panel. This individual may question the accuracy of the technical specialists' calls by calling for a review. The final decision is arrived at by a majority vote of the technical specialist, the assistant technical specialist and the technical controller after the element is reviewed and further analyzed at the conclusion of the skater's performance.

The technical controller must also confirm that all calls have been accurately entered by the data operator.

The elements are available for review after a skater's performance, and scores can be changed accordingly. Review is over and scores are final once they are posted and announced to the public. These scores can only change if a calculation error is found.

TECHNICAL SPECIALIST AND ASSISTANT TECHNICAL SPECIALIST

These individuals are responsible for identifying each of the executed technical elements and the levels of difficulty of each element in real time according to specific criteria. These individuals also must identify illegal elements and falls.

TECHNICAL EVALUATION

In the technical evaluation, each element of a skater's program is assigned a base value. A group of experts, including experienced skaters and coaches, have determined the base value of each technical element. These element base values give the skaters credit for every element they perform. Some elements, such as spins and step sequences, have been assigned a level of difficulty according to specific criteria. These elements are assigned their base value depending on the level of difficulty.

When a skater executes an element, the technical specialist, monitored by the technical controller, identifies the element, and it is then listed on the judge's screen. The judge then grades the quality of the element.

The quality of each element is marked by the judges using an 11-mark "grade of execution" (GOE) scale: -5, -4, -3, -2, -1, 0, +1, +2, +3, +4, +5. The judges' grade of execution is added to or subtracted from the base value of the element to determine the skater's score for that element.

EXAMPLE

Skater performs a triple Axel
Base Value = 8.0
GOE = +2 (worth 1.6 additional points)
Element Score = 9.6

EXTRAS

In the ladies and men's short program and free skate, the base values of jumps skated in the second half of the program are multiplied by a special factor of 1.1. However, only the last jump element performed in the second half of the short program and the last three jump elements performed in the second half of the free skate receive this special factor.

Since a triple Axel's base value is 8.0, a skater has the potential to earn 12.0 points for that jump, or as little as 4.0. The sum of all performed elements, together with their grades of execution, forms the technical score.

- A skater's program consists of a set number of jumps, spins and step sequences. Skaters exceeding the number of opportunities do not get credit for the additional element, but may run the risk of deductions if a fall occurs. In ice dance only, skaters receive a 1.0 deduction for each extra element performed beyond the maximum allowed.

PROGRAM COMPONENTS

In addition to the technical evaluation, the judges award points on a scale from 0.25 to 10.00, with increments of 0.25, for each program component to express the overall presentation.

For pairs skating and ice dance, there must be equal demonstration of the criteria by both skaters.

These five components are scored for all disciplines and events:

SKATING SKILLS

Defined by overall cleanliness and sureness, edge control and flow over the ice surface demonstrated by a command of the skating vocabulary (edges, steps, turns etc.), the clarity of technique, and the use of effortless power to accelerate and vary speed.

In evaluating the skating skills, the following must be considered:

- Use of deep edges, steps and turns
- Balance, rhythmic knee action and precision of foot placement
- Flow and glide
- Varied use of power, speed and acceleration
- Use of multi-directional skating
- Use of one-foot skating

TRANSITIONS

The varied and purposeful use of intricate footwork, positions, movements and holds that link all elements.

In evaluating the transitions, the following must be considered:

- Continuity of movements from one element to another (all disciplines)
- Variety (including variety of holds in ice dance)
- Difficulty
- Quality

PERFORMANCE

Involvement of the skater/pair/couple physically, emotionally and intellectually as they deliver the intent of the music and composition.

In evaluating the performance, the following must be considered:

- Physical, emotional and intellectual involvement
- Projection

- Carriage and clarity of movement
- Variety and contrast of movements and energy
- Individuality/personality
- Unison and “oneness” (pairs, ice dance)
- Spatial awareness between partners — management of the distance between skaters and management of changes of hold (pairs, ice dance)

COMPOSITION

An intentionally developed and/or original arrangement of all types of movements according to the principles of musical phrase, space, pattern and structure.

In evaluating the composition, the following must be considered:

- Purpose (idea, concept, vision, mood)

- Pattern/ice coverage
- Multidimensional use of space and design of movements
- Phrase and form (movements and parts structured to match the musical phrase)
- Originality of the composition

INTERPRETATION OF THE MUSIC/TIMING (ICE DANCE)

The personal, creative and genuine translation of the rhythm, character and content of music to movement on ice.

In evaluating the interpretation of the music/timing, the following must be considered:

- Movement and steps in time to the music (timing)
- Expression of the music's character/feeling and rhythm; when clearly identifiable
- Use of finesse* to reflect the details and nuances of the music

- Relationship between the skaters reflecting the character and rhythm of the music (pairs, ice dance)
- Skating primarily to the rhythmic beat for short dance and keeping a good balance between skating to the beat and melody in the free dance (ice dance)
- * Finesse is the skater's refined, artful manipulation of nuances. Nuances are the personal artistic ways of bringing subtle variations to the intensity, tempo and dynamics of the music.

CALCULATIONS

CALCULATING THE TOTAL ELEMENT SCORE (TES)

1. Each technical element has a base point value.
2. Each judge assigns a GOE for each element from an 11-point scale: -5, -4, -3, -2, -1, 0, +1, +2, +3, +4, +5.
3. Among the judges, the highest and lowest GOE is dropped.
4. The remaining GOEs are averaged. This is called the “trimmed mean.”
5. The trimmed mean GOE is added to the base value.
6. All technical element scores are added.
7. Deductions are taken.

CALCULATING THE PROGRAM COMPONENTS SCORE (PCS)

1. Each judge assigns a mark to each of the five program components on a scale of 0.25-10.00, using 0.25 increments.
2. Among the judges, the highest and lowest score for each program component is dropped.
3. The remaining scores are averaged. This is called the “trimmed mean.”
4. The trimmed mean scores of the five program components are added.
5. The sum of the components is multiplied by the appropriate factor. Why? See right:

*The program components are factored to make the perfect PCS level with the perfect TES, hence granting equal importance to each. Since the perfect PCS score is 50, this number is factored to roughly equal what each discipline is capable of scoring in the TES. For example, in the ladies short program, women today are capable of scoring around 40 in the TES. So the PCS is factored by 0.8, lowering the 50 to a 40.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR
	SHORT PROGRAM/ RHYTHM DANCE	FREE SKATE/ FREE DANCE
LADIES	0.8	1.6
MEN	1.0	2.0
PAIRS	0.8	1.6
ICE DANCE	0.8	1.2

CALCULATING THE FINAL COMPETITION SCORE

1. TES + PCS (factored) – Deductions= Segment Score (TSS)
2. The sum of all segment scores (for example, short program + free skate) is the total competition score. Segment scores are not weighted. They are simply added together cumulatively to reach the competition score.
3. The skater with the highest competition score is declared the winner.

SCALE OF VALUES (SOV)

The scale of values (SOV) assigns a specific base value to each technical element reflective of its difficulty. A group of experts, including experienced skaters and coaches, determined the base values for each element, most of which are listed below.

During a skating performance, the technical specialist identifies each technical element for the judging panel by "calling" the element the skater performs.

The called element receives the base value listed below. The judge then evaluates the quality of that element by giving it a grade of execution (GOE).

Jump and throw elements include one base value for full rotation and an additional base value for under-rotation or an edge error. Flips and Lutz jumps have a third base value for under-rotation and an edge error. Non-jumping elements have five levels (LB, L1, L2, L3, L4) that correlate with five base values and, in some cases, a V value. The values and levels are determined by edges used, number of rotations, etc. A judge still must determine a GOE for whichever element and level is called.

THINGS TO NOTE (REFER TO ISU COMMUNICATION 2254 AND PAGE 18 OF THIS GUIDE)JUMPS

- Full rotation: signs “q”, “<” and “<<” indicate an error, and the base values are listed in the SOV table. A jump with a sign “q” keeps the full original base value of the jump. A jump with a sign “<” is evaluated with the value of the same jump with one less revolution.
- Correct take-off edge in F/Lz: signs “e” and “!” indicate an error, and the base values are listed in the SOV table. A jump with the sign “!” keeps the full original base value of the jump. If multiple signs are applied for the same jump, the base values are listed in the SOV table.

JUMPS (PAIRS)

Both partners must fulfill requirements above (with the same consequences if these requirements are not fulfilled).

SPINS

- For flying spins (with no change of foot and only one position) in both the short program and free skate, a clear visible jump is required. The sign “V” indicates that this requirement is not fulfilled.
- All spins with a change of foot must have three revolutions on each foot. In the short program, if this requirement is not fulfilled, the spin will get no value. In the free skate, the sign “V” indicates that this requirement is not fulfilled.
- A spin in one position with change of foot must have two revolutions in a basic position on each foot. In the short program, if this requirement is not fulfilled, the spin will get no value. In the free skate, the sign “V” indicates that this requirement is not fulfilled.

The base values of spins with the sign “V” are listed in parentheses in the applicable columns of the SOV table. The base values of spin combinations and pair spin combinations with only two basic positions (at least two revolutions in each of these positions) are also reflected in parentheses in the applicable columns of the SOV tables.

www.uschamps2021.com

OVERVIEW

The U.S. Championships, held annually since 1914, is the nation's most prestigious figure skating event. The city of San Jose last hosted the U.S. Championships in 2018, and previously hosted the event in 2012 and 1996. The competition crowns U.S. champions in ladies, men's, pairs and ice dance at both the senior and junior levels.

QUALIFYING STRUCTURE

The 2021 U.S. Figure Skating Championship Series presented by Toyota, is a series of eight competitions that has been created to replace the traditional U.S. Qualifying Season competitions (Challenges and Finals) for the 2020-21 figure skating season due to the impact of COVID-19. Advancement to the 2021 Toyota U.S. Figure Skating Championships, and assignment to the 2021 National High Performance Development Team, will be based on each skaters' highest score earned rather than placement at each competition.

HISTORY OF FIGURE SKATING

Although skating was born in Europe, figure skating as we know it today traces its origins directly back to an American — Jackson Haines. Haines was born in New York in 1840 and died in Finland in 1875 after catching pneumonia while traveling by sled from St. Petersburg to Stockholm.

Just before the Civil War, a skating craze (accompanied by a dancing craze) swept over America. It was during this time that Haines leapt into the lime-light with his mastery of skating and dance. He was a true revolutionary in a country where figure skating had laboriously developed a stiff and rigid style. The free and expressive movements of his performances were condemned by many Americans. In 1863 and '64, he won the Championships of America (now known as the U.S. Figure Skating Championships), but he continued to receive cool receptions from his countrymen. His lack of popularity in America finally prompted him to go to Europe, where he was an immediate success. He was especially popular in Vienna, where he created what some called the "international style of figure skating."

While Haines gave America its first taste of the international style of figure skating, it was not until the turn of the century that this influence finally began to secure its place in the American figure skating community. This event came about thanks to the efforts of Haines and three other figure skating pioneers: Louis Rubenstein, George H. Browne and Irving Brokaw.

Rubenstein, of Montreal, was one of the first individuals who recognized the merits of the international style and the need for organization in a sport that had largely existed as an informal collection of skating clubs. It was through his efforts that the first attempts to form a national governing body began.

In the late 1880s, Rubenstein was the force behind the formation of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada (now known as Skate Canada) as well as the National Amateur Skating Association of the United States and the International Skating Union of America, both of which were forerunners to U.S. Figure Skating.

While Rubenstein laid the groundwork for uniform competitions, tests and a future governing body, it was Browne and Brokaw of Cambridge, Massachusetts, who put that work into action by means of the first "International Figure Skating Championships of America," considered to be the first championship of the United States in the new international style.

Browne, who had studied with the leading European skaters of the day while in Davos, Switzerland, was a staunch supporter of the international style of figure skating, authoring several books and developing a new type of skate in order to promote this method of skating.

Much of the success accomplished by Browne was augmented by Brokaw. Brokaw, who had been influenced by the skating of Haines, collaborated with Browne throughout the early 1900s, demonstrating the international style throughout the country.

Brokaw was part of the first formal demonstration of the international style in 1908, and was the first American to participate in international competition, placing sixth at the 1908 Olympic Games in London.

In 1914, Browne organized the first International Figure Skating Championships of America under the auspices of the International Skating Union of America (I.S.U. of A.), the governing body for both speed and figure skating during the early 1900s.

The competition was created to promote the international style and attempt to streamline figure skating in the United States.

As a result of the direction brought by the I.S.U. of A., and Browne's efforts to create uniform standards for skating, the United States Figure Skating Association was formed in 1921 to govern the sport and promote its growth nationwide.

Known today as U.S. Figure Skating, the organization is comprised of member clubs, individual members and associate members. When the association was formed and became a member of the International Skating Union (ISU), there were seven charter member clubs of U.S. Figure Skating: Beaver Dam Winter Sports Club (Mill Neck, New York), The Skating Club of Boston, Chicago Figure Skating Club, New York Skating Club (New York, New York), Philadelphia Skating Club and Humane Society, Sno Birds of Lake Placid, New York, and Twin City Figure Skating Club (Minneapolis). Currently, there are more than 700 member, collegiate and school-affiliated clubs and more than 1,000 Learn to Skate USA programs. Membership in U.S. Figure Skating carries certain privileges and entitles figure skaters to participate in tests, competitions and shows sponsored by the association.

Until the early 1920s, there were no set standards for proficiency in the sport; if a skater felt qualified to compete, he or she did so. Today, skaters must pass a series of progressively more difficult tests. The highest test level in singles skating consists of the senior free skate and moves-in-the-field tests. In 1938, formal ice dancing tests were established and, in the late 1950s, pairs tests were established.

HISTORY OF FIGURE SKATING

Competitions on every level are a principle incentive for figure skaters to train, develop and improve their skills. By ascending the competitive ladder, competitors registered with U.S. Figure Skating gain entry into international figure skating events including the Olympic Winter Games and the World Figure Skating Championships. All major qualifying competitions such as the regional and sectional championships and U.S. Championships are sanctioned by U.S. Figure Skating and conducted with the support of member clubs.

Exhibitions and ice shows provide experience and exposure for many young, up-and-coming athletes. Member clubs are eligible to hold carnivals and shows with sanctions from the organization. Ice shows, as we know them today, actually originated from U.S. Figure Skating-sanctioned carnivals. In the 1920s and '30s there was no such thing as a commercial ice show. At that time, a few member clubs hosted annual amateur ice carnivals that showcased the top national and international skaters. Only later, after champions such as Sonja Henie of Norway had gained their reputations through these carnivals, did they turn professional and inaugurate the professional ice shows and exhibitions.

An important component of U.S. Figure Skating has been the organization's development of the Memorial Fund. The fund was created after the 1961 plane crash that killed the entire U.S. World Team, including officials, coaches, family members and friends. The Memorial Fund was created to give financial support and assistance to young skaters.

U.S. Figure Skating has published a monthly magazine, SKATING, since the debut issue in December 1923. The magazine provides information on the world of skating for members and the sport's enthusiasts. In addition, U.S. Figure Skating launched its first website in 1996. Since then, www.usfigureskating.org has grown into the most comprehensive website for figure skating in the U.S.

In 2002, the ISU Council implemented the international judging system to replace the 6.0 system. It was first voted into use and is now used at all ISU-sanctioned events and U.S. Figure Skating qualifying events. The new system gains objectivity by utilizing computer technology and a technical panel in addition to the judging panel.

In November 2006, U.S. Figure Skating launched icenetwork in partnership with MLB Advanced Media (MLBAM), the interactive media and Internet company of Major League Baseball.

In July 2018, U.S. Figure Skating renewed its partnership with NBC Sports Group which will provide 80+ hours on television each season. Additionally, the two parties launched the "Figure Skating Pass" on NBC Sports Gold, giving fans access to live and on-demand domestic and international figure skating competition.

In July 2019, U.S. Figure Skating surpassed 200,000 members for the first time with a total membership of 203,023. This marked the highest membership total in organizational history.

Beginning with the 2020-21 season, figure skating moved from NBC Sports Gold to Peacock Premium, NBC Universal's new streaming property.

Figure skating has come a long way since the time Haines took to the ice, and its continued growth will be assured through the support and guidance of U.S. Figure Skating.

Meryl Davis and Charlie White became the first American Olympic ice dance champions at the 2014 Olympic Winter Games in Sochi, Russia. The 2013-14 season was their 17th together. They are six-time U.S. champions, three-time Olympic medalists and two-time World champions.

WORLD FIGURE SKATING HALL OF FAME

THE WORLD FIGURE SKATING HALL OF FAME was established in 1976 to honor individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the sport of figure skating around the world. Nominees may be inducted for accomplishments as competitors, coaches or for other significant contributions. *1902 marked the first year a woman applied to compete in the World Championships. At that time there was no provision in the rules for such an occurrence, and it was not until 1903 that the congress decided that ladies should not be permitted to compete at international men's championships. The ladies event was introduced at the 1906 World Championships.

2007 was the first World Championships not to include a qualifying round, thus IJS scores reflect only the short program and free skate.

INFORMATION AND PROGRAMS

U.S. FIGURE SKATING HEADQUARTERS

U.S. Figure Skating is located in Colorado Springs, Colorado and houses all of the administrative offices for the association along with the World Figure Skating Museum and U.S. and World Halls of Fame. The current offices were moved to Colorado Springs in 1979 from Boston. A staff of more than 60 professionals works with membership, Learn to Skate USA, events, communications, SKATING magazine, development, marketing, accounting and athlete services.

In the fall of 1998, a complete renovation of the national headquarters was highlighted by construction of a second floor addition, increasing the office and meeting space. In recognition of his many contributions to figure skating in the United States, the building was re-named the "Tom Collins Building" in honor of Champions on Ice promoter and longtime figure skating benefactor Tom Collins of Minneapolis.

The World Figure Skating Museum and Hall of Fame, the only facility of its kind in the world dedicated to the preservation of figure skating history, and the U.S. and World Halls of Fame, are located at headquarters and are open to the public year-round.

SCHOLASTIC HONORS

The U.S. Figure Skating Scholastic Honors Team was established in 1996 to recognize high school student-athletes who have excelled in both academics and the sport of figure skating.

Now entering its 24th year, the program is open to all full-time high school juniors and seniors who have competed at any of the novice, junior or senior levels at U.S. Figure Skating events.

Applicants are required to have at least a 3.4 grade point average and must submit a written essay and an official high school transcript. Ten athletes are named to the U.S. Figure Skating Scholastic Honors Team each year and are recognized during an on-ice ceremony at the U.S. Championships. Past recipients include 2002 Olympic champion Sarah Hughes, 2010 U.S. champion Rachael Flatt and many other national and international medalists.

- To promote figure skating nationally and locally
- To encourage new skaters to sign up for lessons
- To offer growth opportunities for U.S. Figure Skating clubs and programs

During the 2020 initiative, 529 kits were sold to rinks, figure skating clubs and Learn to Skate USA programs from 49 states.

FRIENDS OF FIGURE SKATING

Friends of Figure Skating is a program designed to get fans more involved in the sport. LEARN TO SKATE USA

LEARN TO SKATE USA, POWERED BY TOYOTA

Learn to Skate USA, powered by Toyota, launched on June 1, 2016, as the only beginning skating program endorsed by U.S. Figure Skating, USA Hockey and US Speedskating, with support from Special Olympics, the Professional Skaters Association and the U.S. Ice Rink Association.

Rooted in U.S. Figure Skating's highly-acclaimed Basic Skills Program, which taught more than 2.6 million people to skate since 1968, Learn to Skate USA was created to offer an abundance of enhancements tailored toward improving the experience for skaters, program directors, rink managers and owners.

In 2019-20, Learn to Skate USA gained 39 new skating programs across 49 states, with 104 programs totalling more than 300 members. In total, 81,180 new members joined to round out the 129,314 total members for the season.

The mission of Learn to Skate USA is to provide a fun and positive experience that will instill a lifelong love of skating. Designed to be the best beginning ice skating program for both the recreational and the competitive skater, Learn to Skate USA gives participants the starting point to learn the foundational skills needed for whichever specialized ice sport they choose.

The objectives of Learn to Skate USA are:

- Teach children and adults the fundamentals of ice skating while building confidence and skills through each lesson.
- Provide a progressive curriculum that ensures success from the first steps on the ice to the mastery of advanced skills.
- Promote the health and fitness benefits of ice skating.
- Equip each participant with the foundation necessary to reach their goal, be it recreational or competitive in nature.

On March 14, 2017, Learn to Skate USA announced a multiyear partnership with Toyota, joining U.S. Figure Skating, USA Hockey and US Speedskating on team Toyota. Toyota will work with all three national governing bodies and Learn to Skate USA through multimedia, social channels, major events and grassroots outreach to develop and promote skating across the country.

U.S. FIGURE SKATING MEMORIAL FUND

On February 15, 1961, the world was stunned by a tragedy near Brussels, Belgium, as the crash of Sabena Airlines Flight 548 took the lives of all 73 people onboard. Thirty-four members of the U.S. World Figure Skating Team – 18 athletes, six coaches, four judges and officials, and six family members – perished en route to the World Championships in Prague.

Most of the competitors already had arrived in Prague when word of the tragedy reached them. There was much discussion concerning the fate of the competition: Should it be held or canceled? U.S. Figure Skating and the Czech government were in favor of allowing the world's athletes to compete, but the International Skating Union voted to cancel it "as a sign of mourning over the deaths of our American comrades."

The world joined Americans in grieving those lives lost. In just his first month in office, President John F. Kennedy responded to the tragedy by saying, "Our country has sustained a great loss of talent and grace which had brought pleasure to people all over the world."

The best and brightest—a generation of America's top figure skaters—were lost in the crash. But from this tragedy, a legacy was born. Within days of the crash, U.S. Figure Skating established a memorial fund as a living tribute to the 1961 U.S. World Figure Skating Team.

Now in its 59th year, the Memorial Fund has awarded millions of dollars in financial support to figure skaters to assist them with skating and academic expenses. Past recipients include Olympic champions Peggy Fleming, Kristi Yamaguchi, Scott Hamilton, Evan Lysacek and Meryl Davis and Charlie White.

Through the generosity of family, friends, fans, corporations, foundations, figure skating clubs and athletes, the Memorial Fund continues to further the hopes and dreams of the 1961 U.S. World Team. In 2019-20, $550,000 was awarded to over 165 skaters via Memorial Fund donations.

MEMORIAL FUND PROGRAMS

The Memorial Fund manages specialized programs through which deserving skaters may obtain financial assistance.

COMPETITIVE SKATERS ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Competitive Skaters Assistance Program (CSAP) is designed to help qualified skaters meet skating-related expenses. Skaters receive CSAP support based on financial need and level of skating achievement. Awards are available to qualified juvenile-, intermediate-, novice-, junior- and senior-level athletes in the ladies, men's, pairs and ice dancing disciplines.

ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Academic Scholarship Program (ASP) assists current and former skaters who are enrolled in an accredited college or university and are actively involved in the sport of figure skating.

Support through the ASP is intended to be used to defray education expenses. Skaters receive program funds based on financial need and cumulative grade point average, as well as their current level of competitive achievement and/or other involvement in the sport of skating, including serving in a volunteer capacity through their club or through U.S. Figure Skating, or performing as a member of a U.S. Figure Skating synchronized team.

GLOSSARY OF FIGURE SKATING TERMS

ACCOUNTANT — An official at a figure skating competition who compiles and computes marks awarded by judges and the technical panel to determine the placement of competitors.

AXEL JUMP (A) — One of the most difficult jumps, which takes off from the forward outside edge and is landed on the back outside edge of the opposite foot. A single Axel consists of 1.5 revolutions, a double is 2.5 revolutions, and a triple is 3.5 revolutions. The jump is named for its creator, Axel Paulsen. It is easily recognizable as it is the only jump that takes off from a forward position.

BIELLMANN POSITION — Named after Denise Biellmann, this is a difficult variation where the skater's free leg is pulled from behind to a position higher than and toward the top of the head.

BRACKET — A turn from a forward to backward (or backward to forward) edge that is executed on one foot in the direction opposite the curve from an outside edge to an inside edge or vice versa with the exit curve continuing on the same lobe as the entry curve. The pattern the turn creates on the ice looks like a “{”.

CAMEL SPIN (CsP) — A spin done on one leg with the non-skating leg, or free leg, extended backward with knee higher than hip level. The body remains in this “spiral” position while spinning.

CHOCTAW — A turn from a forward to backward (or backward to forward) edge, from one foot to the other, in which the curve of the exit edge is in the opposite direction from the curve of the entry edge. The change of foot is from outside edge to inside edge or from inside edge to outside edge.

CHOREOGRAPHIC CHARACTER STEP SEQUENCE (ChSt) — A step sequence performed anywhere in the program that does not receive a level but will be awarded a GOE based in part on its inventiveness and creativity, and how it enhances the music.

CHOREOGRAPHIC DANCE LIFT (ChLi) — Dance lift of up to 10 seconds performed in a free dance after all of the other required dance lifts.

CHOREOGRAPHIC SEQUENCE (ChSq) — A sequence consisting of movements such as steps, turns, spirals, arabesques, spread eagles, Ina Bauers, hydroblading, any jumps with a maximum of two revolutions, spins, etc. Listed elements included in the choreographic sequence will not be identified as separate elements. CHOREOGRAPHIC TWIZZLING MOVEMENT (ChTw)

— A movement composed of two parts. Both parts may be performed on one foot or two feet or a combination of both. For the first part, at least two continuous rotations must be performed simultaneously and both partners must travel. For the second part, at least one of the partners has to perform at least one continuous rotation and one or both partners can be on the spot or traveling or a combination of both.

CODE — With the inception of the international judging system, every element listed in the scale of values was given a shorthand set of letters and numbers to designate the element and its level of difficulty. These codes are used on skater protocols to identify the elements attempted. Any element listed in this glossary that has a code is listed with the code provided in parentheses after the name of the element.

COMBINATION LIFT — Dance lift with a maximum duration of 12 seconds that combines two rotational lifts in different directions, two curve lifts on two different curves forming a serpentine pattern or two different types short lifts.

COMBINATION SPIN (CoSp) — A spin in which the skater changes feet and/or positions.

DOWNGRADED (<<) — A jump, throw jump or twist lift that is missing a half revolution or more. A downgraded jump is indicated on a skater protocol with a “<<” symbol and receives the value for the jump of one rotation less (i.e. a downgraded triple loop will receive the value of a double loop).

DRAW — The process to determine the skating order for each event. Either the referee or chair of the competition conducts the process in the presence of other judges (closed draw) or in an open setting where the athletes participate and actually draw a number from a pouch (open draw).

EDGES — The two sides of the skate blade on either side of the grooved center. There is an inside edge — the edge on the inner side of the blade — and an outside edge — that on the outer side of the blade. There is a forward and backward for each edge and each side, equaling a total of eight edges.

EDGE JUMP — A jump where the skater takes off from the entry edge of the skating foot without bringing the free foot in contact with the ice to assist the take off. The Axel, loop and Salchow are edge jumps.

ELIGIBLE — The term used to define skaters or competitions that meet the requirements and follow the rules of U.S. Figure Skating and/or the ISU. All eligible skaters, judges and officials are members of U.S. Figure Skating and have not participated in any activities, competitions or events that are not sanctioned by U.S. Figure Skating or the ISU.

ENVELOPE SYSTEM — The envelope system is a part of the U.S. National Team and separates skaters for the Athlete Support Fund (ASUPP) levels. Based on prescribed criteria, U.S. athletes can be placed in Team A, B, C, D or the reserve team. The ASUPP financially supports the U.S. Team envelope athletes by assisting them with their skating expenses.

EULER (Eu) — Also known as a half-loop jump, this is an edge jump, taken off from a back outside edge and landed on the opposite back inside edge. It can be used between two listed jumps to create a three-jump combination, or it can be performed on its own as a transition.

FREE DANCE — The free dance is relatively unrestricted, and skaters select the mood and tempo as long as it is danceable. Couples (for senior level) are allowed four minutes to display their full range of technical skills, interpretation and inventiveness. The free dance is preceded by the rhythm dance.

FREE SKATE — The free skate does not have required elements, so skaters select their own music and theme, and choreograph the many difficult jumps, spins and step sequences that best display their technical and artistic skills. The free skate (for senior level) has a length of 4:30 for men and pairs, and four minutes for ladies. It is preceded by the short program.

HAND-TO-HAND LOOP LIFT (4Li) — A press lift in which the man raises his partner, who is in front of him and facing the same direction, above his head. She remains facing the same direction, in the sitting position with her hands behind her, while her partner supports her by the hands.

JUMP COMBINATION — A jump element consisting of two or three listed jumps where the landing foot of one jump is the take off foot of the next jump.

JUMP SEQUENCE (+SEQ) — A jump element consisting of two jumps of any number of revolutions, beginning with any listed jump, immediately followed by an Axel-type jump with a direct step from the landing curve of the first jump to the take-off curve of the Axel jump.

LASSO LIFT (5Li) — A hand-to-hand overhead lift in which the man swings his partner from one side of his body, around behind his head and into a raised position. Once in the lift, the lady is in a split position facing the same direction as the man. There are five different types of lasso lifts, determined by the take off: toe lasso (5TLi), step in lasso (5SLi), backward lasso (SBLi), reverse lasso (5RLi) and Axel lasso (5ALi).

LAYBACK SPIN (LSp) — Generally performed by ladies, the layback spin is an upright spin in which the head and shoulders are leaning backward with the back arched.
